

Playing for Tudor Dance

Workshop Day in Southampton

For instruments

Saturday 21st October 2017: 10:00 – 4:30

Woolston Community Centre, Southampton

Tutor: Lizzie Gutteridge

All instruments welcome, including soft/loud wind, strings, continuo, percussion. Pitch A=440.

Explore dance repertoire from the 16th century with Lizzie Gutteridge, focusing on some of the common dance types including Bransles, Pavan, Galliard and Almain. We'll look at tempi, how to phrase to fit the steps (some of which we'll try out for ourselves), what dances where we do know the steps can tell us about those where we don't, and we'll hope to bust a few myths along the way. We'll also compare dance music written for dancing from Arbeau, Susato & the Inns of Court with art music based on dance forms from Holborne and Byrd.

This workshop is open to players of all abilities and of all instruments (modern as well as historical). We would like to provide this opportunity for as many as possible to experience this music. Music can be provided in a range of clefs and keys upon request and most pieces will be provided in score so that participants can choose which line they would like to play. We'll also take a brief look at some simple facsimiles.

Lizzie Gutteridge took up playing shawm as a part of the historical re-enactment movement to re-form Waits bands throughout the country, then decided to pursue it further and make it her main occupation. Since 2007 Lizzie has studied with some of the country's leading Renaissance wind players at Cambridge and Dartington summer schools and at Guildhall. She plays a wide range of other historical instruments, including bagpipes, recorders, curtals and fiddles.

Lizzie now performs up and down the country, in and out of historical costume, as a member of Blondel and The York Waits. Freelance engagements have included the Globe's Nell Gwynn, both on tour and in
